

SKY FULL OF STARS

Kanye West's father diagnosed with prostate cancer

Rapper Kanye West's father, Ray West, is battling cancer. According to tmz.com, Ray has been diagnosed with prostate cancer and not stomach cancer as has been widely reported. Kanye has dropped everything to help his father on hearing the news. Ray is currently being treated in Los Angeles and sources say he's responding well. The diagnosis comes just over 10 years after the death of Kanye's mother, Donda, to whom he was very close and whose death led to his mental breakdown in 2016.

I had absolutely no value for myself: Demi Moore

DEMIMOORE, WHO was honoured with the Woman of the Year Award by women's recovery centre and sober living programme Peggy Albrecht Friendly House in Los Angeles, says there was a time when she felt inadequate.

Moore, who has come a long way since she first became a star with her career making turn in 1985's St. Elmo's Fire, said it was early in her career that she found recovery, reported variety.com.

"I was spiraling down a path of real self-destruction and no matter what success I had I just never felt good enough," Moore said at the event on Saturday.

"I had absolutely no value for myself and this self-destructive path quickly brought me to a real crisis point," she said.

"It wasn't clear at the time, maybe it was divine intervention, but two people who I barely knew stepped up and took a stand for me and presented me with an opportunity, which I guess was more like an ultimatum - unless I was dead, I better show up."

Without divulging the details of what and why she went through, she said she was given a chance to redirect the course of her life "before I destroyed everything".

She added: "Life is not a straight line and everybody has dealt with not feeling good enough at some point in their lives. In a moment of great struggle, I reached out to a wise teacher and I expressed my fear that I wasn't good enough and she said, 'You will never be good enough but you can know the value of your worth'. Put down the measuring stick.

"So today, I put down the measuring stick and I thank you for this beautiful acknowledgment and the opportunity to know the value of my worth." IANS

Photos: AP, AFP

Camila Cabello slams fans for calling her 'pregnant'

CAMILA CABELLO HAS slammed people for calling her 'pregnant' and spreading rumours that she is expecting a baby with her boyfriend Matthew Hussey.

The rumours started on Friday after Cabello posted a photo of herself with one hand placed on her stomach, reports dailymail.co.uk.

"You're still the only thing I did right," Cabello captioned the social media picture.

After seeing the picture, people flooded her post with comments asking if she's pregnant, based on her hand placement.

In response to the speculations, the Havana hitmaker wrote: "Guys don't be crazy. I've been eating delicious foods. Leave me and my belly alone."

Cabello and Hussey were first spotted together while on vacation in Mexico in February. IANS

My son is a superhero: Michael Buble

MICHAEL BUBLÉ SAYS his son Noah is his "superhero" after beating cancer he was diagnosed with in 2016 at just three years old.

"I became the strength to somehow pull us and lift us. When they got it out and chemo was done, I just fell. My wife picks me up. He is five years old now and I say to him Spider-Man is amazing but they are fake, they are not real. You are my hero, you are my superhero," Buble said on the special edition of James Corden's 'Carpool Karaoke'.

The 43-year-old singer, who also has two-year-old son Elias with Luisana Lopilato, added that his "whole life ended" when his son was diagnosed, and found it "too hard to talk about" at first.

"Obviously we got his diagnosis and that was it, my whole life ended. At first it was just, it is too hard to talk about. They said it wasn't great so we took it day by day," he said. IANS

ASPAM IIS CELEBRATES AURORA '18 – A LEARNING CARNIVAL

Advertorial

ASPAM IIS celebrates the much awaited AURORA '18, themed from the sparkle of the Aurora Borealis, as a celebration of learning and holistic development for students. This is a day that marks the helm of teaching and learning activities through different means and styles fully in line with the school's motto, "I am Me, I am Unique". The experiences provided by the fest enhances their knowledge, skills and competencies through comprehensive, innovative and creative learning activities.

The Guest of honor for the day, Dr. Swati Popat Vats, is the President of Podar Education Network and Early Childhood Association - India. She spearheads Podar Jumbo Kids Plus and Podar Institute of Education as its founder Director. With over 30 years of experience, Dr.Vats is an internationally acknowledged icon in the field of Early Childhood Education.

AURORA '18 encapsulates the student imagination and understanding through a spectrum of events put up by the young masters, ranging from "Spintronics" to the Processing of Petroleum in liaison with our Alma Mater, Gulf Petrochem Group through a collaborative project rightly titled "Towards Greater Horizons". AURORA '18 launches the "Cover up Cough Campaign", an initiative aimed at creating health awareness and unfolds the Gen NeXTs vision of a Sustainable City.

Parental involvement is a cornerstone in a child's education. It can make a considerable difference in the child's school life. AURORA '18 is a perfect example for ASPAM's partnership with the parent community, who have constantly worked hand in hand towards molding young minds committed to take social responsibilities and environmental obligations.

The core values of the school are thoughtfully woven into the curricular and cross curricular learning environment, to meet the needs of the diverse student community. AURORA '18, reflects the students' aptitude and positive attitude to excel, to share what they learn and to design the best future in the years to come.

AURORA '18